Fair Presentation of the Risk (Commercial Customers)

If You are a commercial customer (i.e. a company, or an individual who has bought insurance wholly or mainly for purposes related to Your trade, business or profession) You have a duty to make a fair presentation of the risk to Insurers and disclose every material circumstance which You know or ought to know. A circumstance is material if it would influence an insurer's judgment in determining whether to take the risk and, if so, on what terms. If You are in any doubt whether a circumstance is material Insurers recommend that it should be disclosed. This is the case before cover is placed, when it is renewed and any time that it is varied.

Insurers may void the Policy and refuse to pay any claims where any failure to make a fair presentation is deliberate or reckless, and may keep the premiums.

Where the failure to make a fair presentation is not deliberate or reckless, but of such a nature that, if You had made a fair presentation, Insurers would not have issued the Policy, Insurers will void the policy and return the premium paid.

If the Insurer would have issued the Policy on different terms had You made a fair presentation, Insurers will not void the Policy (except where the failure is deliberate or reckless) but Insurers may instead:

- (i) reduce proportionately the amount paid or payable on any claim, the proportion for which Insurers are liable being calculated by comparing the premium actually charged as a percentage of the premium which Insurers would have charged had You made a fair presentation; and/or
- (ii) treat the Policy as if it had included such additional terms (other than those requiring payment of premium) as Insurers would have imposed had You made a fair presentation.

Consumer Customers

If You are a consumer insured (i.e. an individual buying insurance wholly or mainly for purposes unrelated to Your trade, business or profession) You have a duty to take reasonable care to answer Insurer's questions fully and accurately and to ensure that any information that you volunteer is not misleading. This is the case before cover is placed, when it is renewed and any time that it is varied.

Insurers may void the Policy and refuse to pay any claims where You have not answered Insurer's questions fully and accurately and where this is deliberate or reckless, and may keep the premiums.

Where the failure to answer the questions fully and accurately and this is not deliberate or reckless, but of such a nature that, if You had answered the questions fully and accurately Insurers would not have issued the Policy, the Insurer will void the Policy and return the premium paid.

If Insurers would have issued the Policy on different terms had You answered the questions fully and accurately, Insurers will not void the Policy (except where this is deliberate or reckless) but Insurers may instead:

- (i) reduce proportionately the amount paid or payable on any claim, the proportion for which Insurers are liable being calculated by comparing the premium actually charged as a percentage of the premium which Insurers would have charged had You made a fair presentation; and/or
- (ii) treat the Policy as if it had included such additional terms (other than those requiring payment of premium) as Insurers would have imposed had You made a fair presentation.

Changes to Your Circumstances

Please tell Your insurance advisor at Your first opportunity if there are any changes to Your circumstances which could affect Your insurance. If Your circumstances change and You do not tell us, You may find that You are not covered if You need to claim.

The changes You are required to notify Insurers of include but are not limited to:

- Any change or addition to the contents that results in a need to increase or decrease the amount insured
- Any changes to the use of The vessel or the business description

Fraudulent claims

Insurers will not pay claims where You have committed fraud in relation to a claim on this Policy and Insurers may recover from You any sums paid by Insurers to You in respect of the claim. Insurers may also cancel the Policy and any other policies You have with Insurers, from the date the fraud occurred. Insurers may also choose not to refund the premium on the basis of fraud, this will depend on the specific circumstances of the claim. Insurers may also tell the police about the circumstances of any fraud.

It is important that You check Your records for the information You have provided and notify Insurers immediately of any changes to these details. Failure to provide accurate and complete information to the best of Your knowledge may result in increased premiums, reduction of a claim, refusal of a claim or Your Policy being cancelled.
